Hi Varda,

I am not sure what you mean by 'again'. What are you referencing? I got a text message from you this morning (12/08/2015) stating the same thing, that a painter is coming tomorrow at 9am. Was there anything else?

The painter is welcome to come tomorrow. We have been asking for this for three weeks. There is more than painting that needs to be done. There are holes in the ceiling in the bedroom and in the kitchen and there is water damage on the wall in the kitchen. Please have them patched correctly.

What is the status of the roof? Is it patched? How certain are we this time around? Or should we just wait for more rain to find out?

Please ask the painter to clean up after they complete their work and to avoid stuffing the ceiling holes with newspaper as was done last time as this will surely lead to mold.

-Alex and Annie

Hi

I am writing you again
Tomorrow the painter will be there at 9AM
Allon will also be there to watch their work

Please leave the key to the apartment with the doorman

Thanks

Varda
